Aside the video coverage, there is a major aspect of the video production, which we handle perfectly at Eonatech, and its known as VIDEO EDITING.

Editing is usually considered to be one part of the post production process. Other post-production tasks include titling, color correction, sound mixing, etc.

Video editing is the process of putting together, cleaning up and finalizing a video for presentation or output. It is mostly used to describe post-production work, which is the work done after all of the shots and footage have been taken and all that still needs to be done is to put them together in order to come up with the final output.

The goal of editing is to manipulate these events to bring the communication closer to the original goal or target. It is a visual art.

The Major Tasks associated with video editing includes:

- Rearranging, adding and/or removing sections of video clips and/or audio clips.
- Creating the flow of the narrative by arranging and rearranging scenes
- Adding effects, filters and additional elements such as CGI
- Applying color correction, filters and other enhancements.
- Creating transitions between clips.

When you're trying to visualize a complex idea or illustrate intricate mechanical functions, Motion Graphics can be a great way. Motion graphics can illustrate complex ideas visually.

Our clients use animation in a wide variety of ways. Sometimes it's a simple text treatment on video titles. Other times it's making the abstract come to life, taking something that you can only imagine and making it a reality.

Organizations trying to reach out to their target audience has gone beyond the traditional mode of attraction. A little touch has been added that involves the use of motion graphics (i.e. the combination of shapes/objects, typography, sound effects, visual effects and so on into animation) to convey your brand's message to your target audience in order to generate sales. At Elonatech, getting the right visuals to convey brand's messages to targeted audience is our specialty.

No matter what industry you're in, the motion graphics look can make your message more engaging and entertaining.

The Motion Graphics process:

Creating an effective animation starts with a clear plan of action.

Bringing the vision to life with tested workflows that complete your project.

The right music, sound effects and voice over to reinforce your message.

Preparing the video for output, to meet proper formats & specifications for recording & playback.
